

GETAFE CAMPUS SPORTS CENTRE

The firm is once more present in an important multisport installation, the largest in its region at present.

The new Getafe Campus Sports Centre has relied on the experience of Freixanet Saunasport for the construction and design of its new wellness area. This ambitious project, started by the Carlos III University of Madrid, covers the sports and leisure requests of students, professors and public in general. This means a total of, at least, 30.000 citizens in this area.

The spa or bathing area will consist of 550 m², approximately. In this area, Freixanet Saunasport has installed the following equipment: Professional Freixanet Saunas personalized as to measures, with SUBLIMA heaters (ground level), ideal for saunas which require intensive use. The decisive factors for the preference of this type of equipment were adaptability, durability, quality and service of this kind of sauna.

Moreover, Freixanet Saunasport has installed WELLPRO[®] warmed-benches for the spa; diverse ceiling showers with aromatherapy, by means of which you may be led through senses, thanks to the different aromas which create wrapping effects; sequential contrast showers and bodily showers. On the other hand, ice springs are going to be the space where you can look for refreshing contrasts to the wellness area. The user is going to find final relaxation on WELLPRO[®] warmed-deck chairs.

Thus, Freixanet Saunasport is once more present in important multisports facilities, the largest in its region at present, able to meet the needs not only of physical, sporting, recreational and health practice, but also of purely higher level sporting practice, which can include training and competitive activity.
